SHARED VALUES

 UNIVERSITY OF GUAM
UNIBETSEDÁT GUÁHAN

We, the Tritons of the University of Guam, recognize our educational, scientific, outreach, and institutional responsibilities. We are mindful that the University is critical for the success and well-being of the people of Guam and the Western Pacific Region. We see the University and the communities that we serve as inextricably interdependent. We acknowledge that it is a privilege to work and study at the University of Guam and we honor that privilege through our gracious words, trustworthy behavior, commitment to excellence, and purposeful actions every day. A shared sense of commitment and excitement to the University's mission and future energizes our activities. As employees, our individual responsibilities are connected to the work of our colleagues and students. It is our responsibility and passion to support them with proactive, superior and effective service. As students, we accept the challenges of the educational experience with appreciation and conviction. As a Triton community, we are individually responsible to the institution and to each other.

In fulfillment of our individual aspirations and the University's mission, we make this pledge in the spirit of the traditional value of inafa'maolek. In CHamoru, inafa'maolek literally means making it good for each other. Figuratively, it means interdependence. We promise that when students, employees, families and visitors come to the University of Guam, they will bear witness to inafa'maolek at work in all of our activities.

This following list of shared values was developed in 2019 by the University of Guam Community as part of the Para Hulo Strategic Planning process.
