Project Funhåyan

Project Funhåyan (to finish) is an initiative targeted at former UOG students who have completed substantial graduate course work but not completed their first master's degree program. This project is similar to programs at other colleges and universities and part of UOG's commitment to student success.

Former UOG students must meet the following criteria:

- You must be eligible for readmission to complete your 1st master's degree
- You must have completed at least twelve (12) earned credits in one graduate program
- You must have been in good academic standing
- You must have been out of school for at least 2 years

Project Funhåyan Benefits:

- Free re-entry
- 3-year extension of completion timeline from semester of readmission
- advising session with Graduate Admissions staff
- receive a personalized degree audit
- assistance with financial aid paperwork
- priority enrollment

Project Funhåyan Rules:

- Student will remain on original Bulletin, but shall have the option of changing to the Bulletin in force at the time of re-admission after a degree audit has been completed.
- Courses that have expired will be reviewed by program faculty. The faculty will evaluate if the credits can be applied towards the degree or if the student should repeat the course.
- Program Chairs will determine if student can be re-admitted. Students may appeal this recommendation to the Director of Graduate Studies.
