THE UNIVERSITY OF GUAM SOLICITS APPLICATIONS TO ESTABLISH A LIST OF ELIGIBLES FOR THE FOLLOWING POSITION (TENURE-TRACK APPOINTMENT, FULL-TIME, SUBJECT TO THE AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS):

#002-26 ASSISTANT PROFESSOR TO ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR (CHEMISTRY)

Location:	College of Natural and Applied Sciences/Division of Natural Sciences
University Information:	The University of Guam is the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific. It is a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant institution, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior Commission. Located in the village of Mangilao on the island of Guam, the campus overlooks the beautiful Pago Bay and the University’s world-class Marine Laboratory and Water and Environmental Research Institute of the Western Pacific. The University has 3,400 students, 47% of Asian ethnicity and 45% of Pacific Islander ancestry, providing a uniquely diverse campus and multicultural atmosphere. As a regional, comprehensive, open-admissions institution, the University awards degrees at the certificate, baccalaureate, and master’s levels through its two colleges and four professional schools. The University also offers a professional doctorate degree in Instructional and Academic Leadership (its first-ever online doctoral program) through the School of Education. The institution’s mission of Ina (to Enlighten), Diskubre (to Discover), Setbe (to Service) serve as the foundation for the institution’s Tulos Mo’na strategic plan, with its vision to transform lives and advance communities as a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant university. One of the university’s key strategic initiatives is to be recognized as a research university centered in Island Wisdom. Island Wisdom acknowledges that Pacific ways of knowing and Western models of higher education are central to the institution’s teaching, research, and service endeavors, and that balanced consideration of the ideas that emerge from them is essential to the prosperity and sustainability of island communities. Through its robust research portfolio fueled by extramural funding from competitive grants and contracts, the University delivers public value through dedicated and capable administration, faculty, students, and staff. As a complement to the research carried out at the institution, the University of Guam has an active press dedicated to publishing research and writing about Guam and Micronesia. A variety of publishing opportunities are available to UOG faculty, employees, students, and members of the communities we serve through the University of Guam Press. UOG is a safe and secure campus, where the institution places paramount importance on the physical, intellectual, emotion, and spiritual wellbeing of its students and employees. It fosters open dialogue and collegiality based upon mutual respect for diverse perspectives. The university has enacted processes to ensure the physical safety of the campus (most recent information may be accessed at https://www.uog.edu/safety-security/) and a policy that encourages open dialogue and respect for all points of view. Community responsive academic programs, robust research agenda, ample publishing opportunities, and commitment to community make the University of Guam an exciting place to be for many years to come.
General Description:	The University of Guam is looking for an individual who is interested in new challenges and opportunities for professional and personal growth. This position calls for someone who is self-motivated and adaptable, intelligent, possesses a global vision and who is interested in working in a dynamic, multicultural institution.
Unit Description:	The Chemistry Program currently consists of four (4) full-time faculty members and approximately fifty (50) declared undergraduate majors; the program also services large numbers of Biology, Agriculture, Engineering, and Nursing majors. The program has the use of one large teaching laboratory for general and organic chemistry and one smaller lab for analytical/physical chemistry, and one new multidisciplinary lab.
Character of Duties:	The Chemistry Program in the College of Natural and Applied Sciences invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in the field of Chemistry. The successful candidate will be able to teach general chemistry and inorganic chemistry at the undergraduate level, with flexibility to teach both large enrollment introductory courses and upper-division courses in the Chemistry Program, as well as develop upper division elective courses in their area of interest. Some teaching at graduate level may be required. This position requires experience with student-centered syllabi and learning outcomes. This is primarily a teaching position as described above, but the successful applicant will also be expected to conduct research of regional relevance in order to achieve promotion and tenure. The successful candidate will be expected to teach students of varying backgrounds, conduct research, seek outside funding for building research capacity, student advising, and serve on university committees. Applicants are encouraged to review the catalog (https://www.uog.edu/course-catalog) to see what courses are currently offered. In addition, applicant should review the Faculty-Board Union Agreement (https://www.uog.edu/faculty/faculty-union.php). The successful candidate will be expected to take up their respective positions by August 17, 2026, or until filled.
Qualifications:	Minimum: Research based Ph.D. in experimental chemistry, preferably with a specialization in Inorganic Chemistry, Analytical Chemistry, or Physical Chemistry from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent with teaching experience; Demonstrated ability to effectively communicate and collaborate with students and colleagues; Ability and willingness to work with people of diverse cultures and backgrounds; Record of research and publications; Must be willing to teach online. Preferred: Post-doctoral research experience in Inorganic Chemistry (academic); Demonstrated excellence in teaching General Chemistry at higher level educational institutions; Experience in developing and teaching online/distance learning courses; Experience teaching in the Western Pacific Region; Extensive experience in communications and collaboration with students, faculty & staff; Record of research publication in refereed journals.
