THE UNIVERSITY OF GUAM SOLICITS APPLICATIONS TO ESTABLISH A LIST OF ELIGIBLES FOR THE FOLLOWING POSITION (TENURE/NON-TENURE TRACK APPOINTMENT, FULL/PART-TIME, SUBJECT TO THE AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS):

#082-19 INSTRUCTOR/EXTENSION AGENT II TO ASSISTANT PROFESSOR/EXTENSION AGENT III (EXTENSION ANIMAL SCIENCE)

Location:

College of Natural and Applied Sciences/Cooperative Extension & Outreach

University Information:

The University of Guam is the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific. It is a land-grant institution, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior Commission. Located in the village of Mangilao on the island of Guam, the campus overlooks beautiful Pago Bay and the University's world-class Marine Biology Lab. The University has approximately 3,900 students, 90% of Asian or Pacific Islander ancestry, providing a uniquely diverse campus and multicultural atmosphere. As a regional, comprehensive, open admissions institution, the university awards degrees at the baccalaureate and master's levels through its two colleges and four professional schools. Over the next five years, the University will be entering an exciting period of growth linked to anticipated increases in military investments and resultant economic expansion in Guam. Three major University initiatives have been developed to maximize academic and community opportunities during this period: "UOG, the Natural Choice" to encourage local students to aspire to attend college and to choose the University of Guam; "UOG Green" with renewable energy and sustainability central to the initiative; and "UOG Leading Change" on Guam and in Micronesia. Extramural funding from competitive Federal sources as well as contracts is rapidly expanding. Such opportunities along with a critical mass of dedicated and capable administration, faculty, students, and staff make the University of Guam an exciting place to be for many years to come. Information on the University's campus security and fire safety may be accessed at <http://www.uog.edu/hro> (Under Links).

General Description:

The University of Guam is looking for an individual who is interested in new challenges and opportunities for professional and personal growth. This position calls for someone who is self-motivated and adaptable, intelligent, possesses a global vision and who is interested in working in a dynamic, multi-cultural institution.

The University of Guam has an active Press dedicated to publishing research and writing about Guam and Micronesia. A variety of publishing opportunities are available to UOG faculty, employees, students and members of the communities we serve through the University of Guam Press.

Unit Description:

The Dean of the College of Natural and Applied Sciences (CNAS) serves as Director of the UOG Cooperative Extension & Outreach (CE&O) and the Western Pacific Tropical Research Center (WPTRC). Faculty in CE&O and WPTRC are in the Agriculture and Life Sciences (ALS) Division. Within CE&O there are currently eleven (11) tenure track Extension faculty positions; two in Community Development, one in Nutrition, one in Food Science, one in Family Life and Youth Development, one in Horticulture, one in Entomology, two in Agriculture Economics, one in Animal Science, and one in Plant Pathology, as well as soft money full time faculty and several Extension associates and assistants. The UOG-CE&O enables the multicultural community of Guam to make informed decisions through non-formal education programs based on research and assessed local needs. The WPTRC, the University's Agricultural Experiment Station (AES), conducts research based on local and regional needs, often identified by CE&O's community need assessments.

Character of Duties:

This position is a 12-month tenure-track Extension faculty position in Animal Science within the Agriculture and Natural Resources Program of the University of Guam Cooperative Extension Service. The primary role of this position is designated as "Extension and Community Outreach". In this role the faculty member will review past accomplishments and conduct needs assessments to develop a knowledge base of Animal Science issues and factors affecting the island and region. This knowledge will be used to plan, develop, implement and evaluate Extension education programs in Animal Science for Guam and the Western Pacific. These programs are driven by needs assessments conducted under 5-year federally approved Plans of Work (POW).

As a tenure-track faculty, the successful applicant is required to develop a portfolio of accomplishments that reflect a minimum of 50% within the primary endeavor (Extension and Community Outreach), a minimum of 25% Creative Scholarly Activities or Research, and a minimum of 15% University and Community Service during the first five years of the tenure track appointment. It is anticipated that this position will be a split position with at least 12.5% Research (WPTRC) funding. In addition, all tenure track faculty in the Agriculture and Life Sciences Division are required to teach at least three (3) contact hours per year in the Agriculture and Life Sciences (ALS) Undergraduate Program. Faculty members are required to submit an annual report of accomplishments and a Plan of Work. These are reviewed and approved by the Dean/Director of the College.

This Extension faculty will work as a member of the UOG-CE&O team and as a representative of the University of Guam. This faculty will be under ALS Division as a member of UOG-CE&O and provide leadership support for Animal Science issues and programs, while also working across the various Extension Plan of Work areas.

The successful candidate is expected to engage in the following topical areas:

- Provide technical assistance to subsistence and commercial stakeholders involved in production of swine, poultry, goats, and cattle.
- Conduct formal and non-formal education programs on animal science topics relevant to community needs and emerging issues.
- Create and provide animal science information in the form of printed, web based, and in person education venues.
- Through applied and participatory research, develop practical programs in livestock waste management, nutrition, housing, pasture management, reproduction, animal health, and genetics.

#082-19 INSTRUCTOR/EXTENSION AGENT II TO ASSISTANT PROFESSOR/EXTENSION AGENT III (EXTENSION ANIMAL SCIENCE)

- Explore development of feed sources from local materials to create cost effective feeding programs that also increase island food security.
- Promote sustainable (environmentally and economically) livestock waste management systems that integrate with local fruit and crop production systems. Maintain close outreach partnerships with local regulatory agencies.
- Provide technical support and outreach education on livestock housing and pasture design, modification and management.
- Provide technical support and outreach education on emerging local needs, and animal topics for both small scale (subsistence) and commercial livestock operations.
- Develop/explore efficient USDA approved methods to process meat, poultry, and eggs appropriate for a small island context.
- Participate in regional projects supporting US-affiliated Western Pacific (Republic of the Marshall Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Republic of Palau, and Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Hawaii, and American Samoa) Land Grant programs.
- Participate in University, College, and community committees and boards.
- Establish and maintain positive relationships among diverse groups and stakeholders to assess community needs and concerns around the agricultural industry; in production, processing, and marketing.
- Work with local government agencies (Guam Department of Agriculture, Guam Environmental Protection Agency, and Guam Department of Public Health and Social Services) and Federal partners supporting the agriculture industry.
- Provide technical expertise in animal science to local agencies and policy makers to assist in developing science based and community need based policies that support, environmentally and economically sustainable, growth of the island's livestock and food industries.
- Collaborate with community-based organizations for Extension program delivery, especially Soil and Water Conservation Districts, local cooperatives, livestock producer groups, and other Non-Government Organizations (NGOs).
- Secure extramural grant funding that supports stakeholder and University needs.
- Generate creative scholarly/research literature that broadens local and global knowledge, and white papers, lay materials and news articles that support island needs and Extension & Outreach programs.

Qualifications:

Minimum:

- Master's degree in Animal Science or closely related field from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent for the rank of Instructor/Extension Agent II.
- A Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in animal science or closely-related field or a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine (DVM) from an US-accredited university or foreign equivalent for the rank of Assistant Professor/Extension Agent III.
- Demonstrated ability to communicate, interact, and collaborate effectively with farmers, students, colleagues and the community, both orally and in writing.
- Ability and willingness to work with people of diverse cultures, backgrounds and economic status.
- Must be willing to teach online.

Preferred:

- Demonstrated ability to secure and manage competitive grants.
- Record of producing community and academic publications.
- Demonstrated knowledge and experience with tropical animal production.
- Experience working in, and knowledge of, Land Grant Universities and Colleges.
- Experience working with online learning programs.

Salary Level:

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience relevant to the position. The following salary figures are for twelve (12) months:
