University
Information:

The University of Guam is the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific. It is a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant institution, accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges Senior Commission. Located in the village of Mangilao on the island of Guam, the campus overlooks the beautiful Pago Bay and the University’s world-class Marine Laboratory and Water and Environmental Research Institute of the Western Pacific. The University has 3,400 students, 47% of Asian ethnicity and 45% of Pacific Islander ancestry, providing a uniquely diverse campus and multicultural atmosphere. As a regional, comprehensive, open-admissions institution, the University awards degrees at the certificate, baccalaureate, and master’s levels through its two colleges and four professional schools. The institution’s mission of Ina (to Enlighten), Diskubre (to Discover), Setbe (to Service) serve as the foundation for the institution’s Tulos Mo’na strategic plan, with its vision to transform lives and advance communities as a land-grant, a sea-grant, and a space-grant university. One of the university’s key strategic initiatives is to be recognized as a research university centered in Island Wisdom. Island Wisdom acknowledges that Pacific ways of knowing and Western models of higher education are central to the institution’s teaching, research, and service endeavors, and that balanced consideration of the ideas that emerge from them is essential to the prosperity and sustainability of island communities. Through its robust research portfolio fueled by extramural funding from competitive grants and contracts, the University delivers public value through dedicated and capable administration, faculty, students, and staff. As a complement to the research carried out at the institution, the University of Guam has an active press dedicated to publishing research and writing about Guam and Micronesia. A variety of publishing opportunities are available to UOG faculty, employees, students, and members of the communities we serve through the University of Guam Press. UOG is a safe and secure campus, where the institution places paramount importance on the physical, intellectual, emotion, and spiritual wellbeing of its students and employees. It fosters open dialogue and collegiality based upon mutual respect for diverse perspectives. The university has enacted processes to ensure the physical safety of the campus (most recent information may be accessed at <https://www.uog.edu/safety-security/>) and a policy that encourages open dialogue and respect for all points of view. Community responsive academic programs, robust research agenda, ample publishing opportunities, and commitment to community make the University of Guam an exciting place to be for many years to come.

General
Description:

The University of Guam seeks an executive who is interested in new challenges and opportunities for professional and personal growth and who is interested in working in a dynamic, multi-cultural institution of higher education in the Pacific.

Under the general administrative direction of the Senior Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs, the Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities Education, Research and Service (CEDDERS) Director is an administrator position responsible for the overall administrative duties of the unit. CEDDERS is one of 67 nationally designated Centers of Excellence. Directors must possess, according to the Developmental Disabilities (DD) Act which establishes such Centers, “Appropriate academic credentials; demonstrated leadership; expertise regarding developmental disabilities; significant experience in managing grants and contracts; and the ability to leverage public and private funds” DD Act Sec. 154 (a)(3)(G). In addition, the Director must also adhere to federal regulations governing each grant program under which CEDDERS receives federal funds. The CEDDERS Director supervises faculty assigned to the unit, as well as grant and externally funded professional and support staff with specified expertise.

Evaluation is done annually using the University of Guam (UOG) Administrator Evaluation process. If selected through a national search, as the UOG CEDDERS Director is not listed in the College and University Professionals Association-Human Resources (CUPA-HR) utilized by UOG, the position is benchmarked to the University Centers of Excellence (UCE) Director National salary conducted by the Association of University Centers on Disabilities (AUCD) (reviews Director salaries for the 67 National Directors) and is equivalent to CUPA-HR salary range for Associate Dean/Director of Extension Service. Individual selected for this position requires federal approval from U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Administration for Individuals with Developmental Disabilities (AIDD), as per the Act listed above. UOG CEDDERS was chartered as an Interdisciplinary Teaching, Research and Service Unit and performs all three university functions. CEDDERS has historically been administratively organized as a “Research” Unit, but is also defined in the current UOG structure, under the heading of Service Units. Cooperative Extension Service (CES) at UOG also is under this category.
