The Research Corporation of the University of Guam is an equal opportunity employer and provider.

commonly referred to as EPSCoR, and will considerably expand upon work undertaken during the previous five-year, $6 million Guam EPSCoR grant project, the Guam Ecosystems Collaboratorium. The new grant, Guam EPSCoR GECCO Program, includes an Education and Workforce Development (EWD) component that will advance the following NICE areas: Natural Resources, Information Technology, Circular Economy, and Educational Outreach.

The program seeks a qualified individual to coordinate efforts to stimulate new island circular economy industries. The circular economy cuts waste and reuses materials while lessening the burden on natural resources. The individual will perform a series of duties, including: coordinate activities among entrepreneurs, industry leaders, and business incubators/accelerators; create, expand, and/or leverage circular economy makerspaces for entrepreneurs to create circular products; conduct and coordinate outreach, workshops, and other educational activities; and carry out general grant administrative and reporting activities.

The ideal candidate should possess excellent oral and written communication skills and be able to organize their work using tools such as Microsoft Office applications and relevant office equipment. The Extension Associate I/ G3 Circular Economy Coordinator shall ensure efficient and high-impact success of circular economy efforts in the jurisdiction.

The Extension Associate I/ G3 Circular Economy Coordinator will be located in the offices of EPSCoR and CIS/Sea Grant in the Dean Circle area of the University of Guam campus and will report directly to the Co-PI/EWD Coordinator of the Guam EPSCoR GECCO Program. Under the Co-PI/EWD Coordinator's guidance, the incumbent will provide coordination and administrative support to ensure circular economy activities are efficiently progressing. The incumbent must coordinate with the Guam EPSCoR office and Office of Sponsored Research and Programs and RCUOG staff when submitting paperwork for signatures and for procurement processes.
