3. Outline of Assignments and Points

In the section below, each assignment and the number of points possible for each assignment is outlined. If the course schedule needs to be revised to accommodate student progress, and the consequence is that an assignment listed cannot be completed before the end of the term, those points will not count against students. The percentage points will be redistributed across the other assignments. At the end of the term, you will have the opportunity to discuss your course grade before final grades are posted.

1	Vocabulary Quizzes (L1-6) 6x 4	24 points
2	Reading Assignments (L1-7) 7x3	21 points
3	Assignments (L1-7) (7x 2)+1=15	15 points
4	Presentation	10 points
5	Oral Exams	10 points
6	Final Exams	20 points
	*Full Attendance Extra Credits: 3 points
	Total	100 points

4. Course Assignments

a) Attendance [SLO #1-4]

You are expected to attend each session and participate in class activities. Attendance and participation will be checked in every class. If you have 4 unexcused absences, you will be asked to withdraw or given an “F” grade. If your absence was unavoidable and legitimate, please submit an official document (doctor’s_note, notification of jury duty, etc). Attendance and participation points are as follows: 0 absence (perfect attendance) +3 bonus points are given; otherwise, 1 or 2 absence -0 points/ 3 or 4 absences -3 points/ 5 or 6 absences -4 points; 8 or more absences -6 points. You are responsible for getting any information or handouts which had_been_already provided in class.

b) Presentation (10 points total) [SLO #1, 3 & 4]

You will prepare a 10-15 minute presentation on a topic related to Korean culture. You may include video clips and include a quiz for your classmates to see if they actually have paid attention to your presentation. Please be creative and engaging. (A presentation format will be such as PowerPoint or Prezi, a webpage such as Weekly or Blogger, video, etc.).

Evaluation Criteria/Rubric

- Content:3 points (beneficial to the class to know);
- Engagement:2 points (engage your audience);
- Organization 2 points (make it easy to follow);
- Presentation:3 points (use of as many Korean words as possible/confidence and passionate)

c) Homework Assignments (15 points total) [SLO #1, 2 & 4]

You will be given listening and written homework assignments from the Integrated Korean workbook on a regular basis to review and practice the Korean language independently outside of our classroom. The homework assignments will also help you prepare for our vocabulary quizzes and lesson tests. Grades will be made based on the amount of your work and effort. Late submissions and incompleteness will result in deduction in points.

d) Vocabulary Quizzes (24 quizzes x 1 point = 24 points total) [SLO #2]

The purpose of vocabulary quizzes is to review the vocabulary words that you were assigned. Besides understanding the meaning of each word and how to write it, you should also practice listening to how each word sounds by going to the course website provided in the syllabus

e) Reading Assignments (21 assignments x 1 point =21 points total) [SLO #1–3]

You will pair up (if possible) and practice reading aloud. And then you will make a video of your final reading and submit the recording.

f) Lesson Tests (Midterm & Final exams) (20 points total) [SLO #1 2 & 4]

There will be two lesson tests throughout the semester. The purpose of lesson tests is to assess your understanding of new expressions that we cover in each lesson.

g) Oral Exam (10 points total) [SLO # 1, 2 & 3]

You will form a pair of your choosing, and each pair will be given one random conversation to perform that will last about 3 to 5 minutes long. Also, you may come up with your own script, but you must provide me a copy. Each oral exam will be graded based on below;

Evaluation Criteria/Rubric

- Memorization: 4 points (You don't have to memorize exactly, but the conversation should be comprehensible.)
- Pronunciation: 3 points (I don't expect you to speak like a native Korean, but I should be able to understand)
- Fluency: 3 points (You are not just reciting sentences but having a conversation.)

IV. Course Policies*1. Assignment Submission and Make-up Policy:

You are expected to remain on task with due dates all the time. Late work will be allowed on a case by case basis. If the work is turned in before the next class there is no penalty. If you are absent on the day of quiz/exam, you will be 10% deduction depending upon the excuse. For any other missed task, please provide a formal request and each situation will be dealt with individually.

2. Attendance, including On-Line Procedures, and Tardiness Policies:

- Attendance: Participation in this class is vital. Regular and punctual attendance is integral to learning in this course. Students cannot have more than 4 unexcused absences without being asked to withdrawal or they will be given a 'F' grade.
- Tardiness (late participation online) and early exits

Late participation disrupts the class and can be inconsiderate, while leaving early or exiting an on-line session without permission is considered missing valuable class time. Three (3) late participations or early exits count as one (1) absence and this will affect your attendance grade.
- On-Line Procedures: The above, constitute on-line procedures, as well. Attendance and tardiness are judged by the time for logging into your distance learning class.

3. Withdrawal Policies: If you wish to withdraw from the course, you must do so before the university's voluntary withdrawal deadline (see UOG's undergraduate catalog).

4. Online Class Etiquette and Communication Policy Summary:

- a) Attend all classes and be punctual. To ensure continued participation, do not use a profile picture during the on-line class. Except for emergencies, you must be constantly available and seen. Side chatter away from the class is not considered acceptable behavior. In addition, the following are considered proper etiquette for working in an on-line environment: Mute yourself/Turn on video/No photos/ Find a quiet place/Respect others(towards the instructor and classmates).
- b) Students are NOT allowed to record class sessions.
- c) Learning foreign language is different from learning other subjects. To enhance your Korean language skills, daily practice is inevitable. Listen to the audio files for the dialogues that were introduced in the class. It is essential that you constantly put your effort to listening to Korean outside of class to be used to properly hear the natural sound, intonation, speed of the Korean language.
- d) All homework and classroom participation will be conducted on-line. Classes will communicate via Moodle, email and WhatsApp.
